Community Health and Well-Being Grants. ideas42 is currently soliciting applications from communities who are tackling challenging problems in community health and well-being, and who are interested in learning how the field of behavioral science, which provides deeper insights into how people make decisions and take actions, can be used to develop better solutions to these problems. Interested communities will designate an organization or consortium of organizations to submit the application on their behalf. Health and well-being are greatly influenced by where we live, how and where. Many communities struggle to encourage the individual actions needed to address these factors, even when residents are motivated and when there are existing health initiatives in place. However, new tools from the behavioral sciences can be very effective at helping people make better decisions and follow through on good intentions. By learning how to apply behavioral insights, communities can improve the effectiveness of initiatives that encourage healthy behaviors, tackle social and economic challenges, and work to transform access to care. We encourage any community working on these or related issues to apply. Selected applicants will be invited to attend an intensive workshop on applying behavioral science to advance community health and well-being. In addition, a small number of applicants who attend the workshop will be selected to partner with ideas42 to design and test behavioral interventions in their communities. Applications are due by June 17. For more information visit http://www.ideas42.org/wp-content/uploads/2016/04/I42-670_RequestforProblems_brief_13.pdf.

TIME SENSITIVE District Employers - Do You Need Free Summer Employees? The Marion S. Barry Summer Youth Employment Program (MBSYEP) is excited to announce that the 2016 application for MBSYEP Host Employers is now available. For decades, MBSYEP has provided youth ages 14 – 22 with enriching and constructive work experiences through subsidized placements in the private and government sectors and under Mayor Muriel Bowser’s leadership, MBSYEP has expanded to serve youth through age 24. As President Obama, Recently Wrote “my first summer job [scooping ice cream] wasn’t exactly glamorous, but it taught me some valuable lessons. Responsibility. Hard work. Balancing a job with friends, family, and school.” MBSYEP has created the platform to give District youth that same valuable learning experience, but it is incomplete without support from District Employers. This summer’s success depends upon District employer involvement. We need private, non-profit and government sectors partners to sign up as Host Employers. The six-week program runs from Monday, June 27 to Friday, August 5; MBSYEP is open to ALL District residents between the ages of 14 – 24 who are eligible to work in the U.S. ; the Office of Youth Programs pays participant wages; and matches are made based upon participants’ career interests and employers’ identified prerequisites. We are encouraging interested nonprofit, faithbased and for profit employers to apply. The deadline for applications is May 20. If interested in registering as a Host Employer for #MBSYEP2016 Register Here . For additional information and questions call 202-698-3492 or email summerjobs@dc.gov .

Call for Community Grant Reviewers. Serve DC – The Mayor’s Office on Volunteerism is seeking Community Grant Reviewers for its 2016 AmeriCorps State Competitive Grant Competition. A grant reviewer is an excellent opportunity to network with colleagues in the national service field, learn more about the grant-making process, develop your grant-writing skills, and contribute your knowledge and experience to Serve DC’s efforts to select high-quality Washington, DC-based programs for AmeriCorps funding. Grant reviewers read, evaluate, and score applications for the 2016 AmeriCorps State Formula Grant Competition. This is a volunteer opportunity. Qualified reviewers will be selected to ensure there is a diverse group that has experience with national service or community-based programs, and grant writing or performance management. Reviewers may be community service practitioners, educators, college students, national service alumni, people working in foundations, individuals working on public policy issues, or people who work for organizations affiliated with AmeriCorps, Senior Corps, or other national service programs. Please note: AmeriCorps members must have completed service by April 1, 2016 to apply and people who work for an organization that is being considered for funding in this competition cannot apply. For more information contact Pamela Weinberg and to apply email your resume to Pamela Weinberg pamela.weinberg@dc.gov by 5:00pm on Friday, May 20, 2016.

Nonprofit Legal Clinic: Understanding Contracts. The D.C. Bar Pro Bono Center is hosting the Nonprofit Legal Clinic: Understanding Contracts workshop on June 1 from 9 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. at Morrison & Foerster, 2000 Pennsylvania Avenue NW. If your nonprofit organization rents office space, hires a fundraising consultant, or signs a grant agreement with a foundation, then your nonprofit is party to one or more contracts. Perhaps you’ve renewed your organization’s lease multiple times, or have reused the same template when contracting for services from a consultant. You may have inherited a contract that was first written several years ago or signed a contract with a vendor you’ve been doing business with for years without really reading it, because you assume nothing has changed. But how well do you really understand your contracts? For example, do you know whether your organization’s contracts contain: a promise to maintain certain types of insurance?; a provision that requires you to complete your annual audit by a specific date?; or an arbitration clause? If you don’t understand all the provisions of your organization’s contracts, you may be promising more than your organization can take on. At this clinic, co-sponsored by the D.C. Bar Pro Bono Center and Morrison & Foerster LLP, you will meet one-on-one with an attorney who will help review your existing contracts to ensure that you understand all the provisions that they contain, and to help you develop. To register contact Lauren Paley at lpaley@dcbbar.org or 202-737-4700, ext. 3357.

Nonprofit Legal Clinic: Understanding the Building Blocks of Good Governance . The D.C. Bar Pro Bono Center is hosting Nonprofit Legal Clinic: Understanding the Building Blocks of Good Governance workshop on June 10, 2016 from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at Kirkland & Ellis, 655 15th Street NW, Suite 1200. Good governance policies are a critical part of every organization's foundation, which is why the IRS Form 990 asks nonprofits to indicate whether they have conflict-of-interest, whistleblower and record retention policies. The IRS also has requirements regarding conflicts of interest and public disclosure of your tax filings, while the D.C. Nonprofit Code requires a nonprofit to maintain certain corporate records. But what should you do if: Someone comes to your office and demands to see a copy of your original IRS application for exempt status – do you have to give a copy to the person requesting one? What if you can't find it? or An ex-employee who left your employ eight years ago asks for a copy of his or her personnel file - should you provide it? While all Sec. 501(c)(3) organizations should have well-drafted conflict of interest, record retention and whistleblower policies, it is just as important that organizations educate their directors, employees and volunteers about the policies and develop a plan to implement them. At this clinic, you will meet one-on-one with an attorney who will help review and update your nonprofit's whistleblower and record retention policies and your conflict of interest policy and disclosure form. The attorney will also discuss with you the reasons the policies say what they do, and how best to implement them. Finally, the attorney will discuss with you some actions you can take now, so you know to handle issues when they come up. Registration is required please contact Lauren Paley at lpaley@dcbbar.org or 202-737-4700, ext. 3357
